Washingtonian Invades Jungles To Get Leprosy Cure

BRAVES BEASTS OF SIAM

Brings Back Specimens of the Chaulmoogra Tree

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — Introduction in the United States of the chaulmoogra tree to assure a permanent supply of the oil for the treatment of leprosy is planned as a result of a trip thru Siam, Burma and Assam by Professor J. F. Rock, formerly of the University of Hawaii.

Professor Rock has just returned to Washington after an extensive exploration into the jungles for the Department of Agriculture's branch of foreign seed and plant introduction. He brought back with him several specimens of the "taraktogenos" tree, the seeds of which have been sent to various experiment stations of the department in Florida, Maryland and California for germination.

Within eight years, it is believed, enough fruit will be borne from these plants to initiate a domestic source of supply of chaulmoogra oil. With the possible exception of a man named Kerr, an amateur botanist, Professor Rock is said to be the first white man to invade the region of Siam where he obtained his specimens. Natives of that country for many years have visited the taraktogenos forests to obtain enough of the oil to meet their domestic needs, but they made these trips only every three years for fear of the beasts that inhabit the wild country.

While chaulmoogra oil has been used scientifically for only a few years, Professor Rock says the natives of that part of Asia which he visited have been using the curative properties of the taraktogenos tree for hundreds of years, but in such a crude way as to be unable to derive its complete benefits.

"In the Buddhist histories that date back 1,000 years there are mentions of this tree," Professor Rock pointed out, adding that "the crude oil of the tree was taken internally by the natives and the legends say it was effective."

It was not until 1839 that the active principles of the oil from the seeds of the taraktogenos tree were isolated with success. This was done by Dr. Frederick B. Powers, now connected with the Department of Agriculture here, after extensive scientific experiments made in England in 1856 had resulted in the discovery that the wrong tree was being used for extracting chaulmoogra oil.

Application of results obtained in Dr. Powers' researches by Dr. A. I. Dean, president of the University of Hawaii, and others has led to a widespread use of the oil in leprosy cases.

JAVA LEPROS COLONIES

HONOLULU, T. H. — The chaulmoogra oil specific for leprosy and its method of use, perfected in the laboratories of the University of Hawaii and in the Kalili leprosy station here, are to be introduced in the leprosy colonies of Java.

Dr. C. D. de Langen, lecturer at the Netherlands government medical school in Batavia, Java, paused here recently on his way to Batavia after a year of lecturing at the University of Amsterdam. He characterized results obtained, illustrated in the release of scores of former lepers on parole, as splendid.

Dr. de Langen added that the method of administering injections of the specific developed here had reduced pain to a minimum and thus eliminated one of the great obstacles to successful treatment of leprosy.

WOULD BAR JUDGE

McGannon Objects To Powell Sitting In His Case

COLUMBUS. — (By United Press.) — William H. McGannon, former chief justice of Cleveland municipal courts, today filed petition in the supreme court asking that common Pleas Judge Homer G. Powell be enjoined from sitting as judge in contempt proceedings arising from the second McGannon murder trial.

Affidavit of prejudice filed by McGannon some time ago, seeking to have Judge Powell assigned to hear the case, was recently overruled by Chief Justice Marshall, of the supreme court, but McGannon contends that Judge Powell is disqualified as judge in the case by this affidavit, regardless of Marshall's ruling.

Application of McGannon's attorneys for an alternative order requiring Judge Powell to show cause why he should not be enjoined from hearing the contempt case, was refused by the supreme court. Hearing on the petition for writ of prohibition probably will go over to the fall term of court.

SCENE OF PRISON UPRISING

Panorama, showing Western Pennsylvania penitentiary after the fire.

The interior of the main building of the Western Pennsylvania penitentiary situated on the Ohio river near Pittsburgh, was wrecked, a dozen smaller buildings connected with the institution were destroyed by fire and fourteen persons, nine of them convicts, were injured last Monday afternoon in what is declared to have been the greatest prison riot and attempted prison delivery in the history of the United States. Several of the prisoners escaped. The photo gives an idea as to the extent of the conflagration. The property damage is estimated at $150,000.

STRIKE MAY TIE UP MOVIES

Skilled Workmen Walk Out At Los Angeles Studios

RESULT OF CUT IN WAGES

Several Concerns Already Crippled by Employees Quitting

LOS ANGELES. — (By United Press) — A general strike of skilled workmen in Los Angeles motion picture studios threatening almost total paralysis to the industry, will develop in a few days unless the producers association cancels its wage cut program, union officials asserted here today.

Thursday was set as the tentative date for the tieup. Two studios are affected by the strike call.

The walkout of carpenters, painters and electricians which came Monday when certain studios issued notification of a wage cut of $1 a day spread rapidly during the day.

The Dal E. Roach studios at Culver City, engaged in making Harold Lloyd and other comedies, were shut down completely today.

At the William Fox Company studios, 13 of the 15 companies at work were forced to exterior work exclusively because of a walkout of 100 skilled stage men.

Union officials claimed that 400 men were on strike today at the Famous Players-Lasky studios, where Jesso Lasky, president, asserted that production has not been seriously interfered with.

The Metro Studios were hampered by a walkout of mechanics.

Universal City claimed that all its 16 companies were at work with conditions normal.

CITY BLUNDER IS FOUND COSTLY

Expense Lost By Taxpayers Because Someone Was Lax

Taxpayers of the city of Lima are out the expense of advertising the proposed resurfacing of Hazel-ave from Baxter to McDonald-st because someone blundered.

The city went ahead with the advertising and after it was too late it was found that sufficient property owners had not signed the petition. The advertising and preliminary expense were lost.

Before recommending and ordering legislation for street improvements, city council will be asked to investigate the projects to see that the proper number of property owners have signed the petition. The matter will be brought to attention of council by Solicitor H. E. Garling.

A number of improvements have recently been authorized by council, which were later referred back to Solicitor Garling by City Clerk Jeffers, because less than the necessary two-thirds of the owners signed.

TEXAS MAN IS SEIZED SECOND TIME BY MOB

TENAH, Texas. — J. W. McKnight of Nacogdoches, who was attacked early Sunday morning by a party of masked men at Timpson and severely beaten, was taken from custody of a deputy sheriff late last night by another party in motor cars. The band sped thru Timpson early today firing volleys of pistol shots.

McKnight, a plumber, came here yesterday to secure warrants for the arrest of some of his assailants of Sunday, whom he said he had recognized. County officials arrested him for carrying concealed weapons and started with him for Center, the county seat, when he was again seized.

PROBE IN PRISON RIOT BEGUN

Authorities Seek Cause of Trouble at Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Pa. — (By Associated Press) — Two investigations into the fire and riot at the Western penitentiary here Monday, during which eight convicts were wounded and damage done estimated at $100,000, will proceed at once, according to Colonel C. A. Rook, secretary of the board of inspectors and publisher of the Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Colonel Rook said that the inspectors' investigation would begin after Warden Francis had completed his inquiry as to the cause of the trouble which resulted in the destruction of industrial buildings at the institution and the wrecking of many of the cells.

During the riot, it was disclosed today, the women prisoners took a part almost as prominent as the male convicts. The women became so unruly that three of their ring-leaders were placed in straightjackets.

Following the initiation of the warden's investigation those of the male prisoners, alleged to have been responsible for the firing of the buildings and the riot, were placed in solitary confinement. Nine convicts were placed in the prison's dungeons as a result of the investigation, prison officials said.

RACE CASE ENDS

Court Refuses To Interfere In Masonic Dispute

COLUMBUS. — (By Associated Press.) — Litigation of years standing affecting the two Ohio negro Masonic organizations was ended here today by Common Pleas Judge Duncan, who refused to take any rights or privileges from either, leaving both sides to the controversy just where he found them.

He denied to each an injunction against the other, which would have prohibited the use of the word "Masons" and "Free and Accepted Masons," or granted a temporary order restraining either from interfering with the property or activities of the other.

In leaving the controversy unsettled, Judge Duncan said both sides have been in existence so long, and have acquired so many rights, that a court of equity will not at this late date interfere with either.

WIFE SILENT ON KIDNAPED MATE

Mystery In The Sharon Abduction Case Thickens

VICTIM TRACED BY POLICE

Talks With Spouse On Phone, Off To Cleveland

SHARON, Pa. — (By Associated Press.) — Thomas D. Randolph, prominent business man of Sharon, reported to have been kidnapped Monday night and held for fifty thousand dollars ransom, talked with his wife by long distance telephone at two o'clock this morning from Franklin, Pa., according to word received by local police. Mrs. Randolph, it is said, declined to disclose their conversation.

Randolph, the police said, talked to his wife at the home of her father, E. V. Fogel, from a hotel at Franklin, Pa. Police at Franklin were notified and following a fruitless search for the missing man, turned in the report that he had left in an automobile accompanied by a man and woman thru Oil City, in the direction of Erie.

WIFE, BOARD BOAT

The police said they had learned that he was to take a boat from Erie to Cleveland. This was the extent of the information they ascertained.

Mrs. Randolph's mother this morning denied that her daughter had spoken to Randolph on the telephone.

Police said today that Randolph, accompanied by a man and a woman, had left Franklin after he had called his wife on a telephone this morning and said that he was going to Erie, Pa., where he would board a steamer for Cleveland.

ERIE ON WATCH

ERIE, Pa. — (By Associated Press) — Police here were notified early this morning to keep a lookout for the car of Thomas D. Randolph, said to be directed this way from Franklin, Pa., where the missing man is said to have talked to his wife by long distance telephone at Sharon.

Sergeant Doyle of the detectives' department said that all patrolmen had been instructed to watch every automobile entering Erie, but that it would be several hours before any machine could reach the city from Franklin.

TWINS DISAPPEAR

Col. Roosevelt's Cousins, 26, Hunted By New York Police

NEW YORK. — (By Associated Press) — Search was started today by the police for Charles and Leona Leacock, 26-year-old twins, and cousins of the late Theodore Roosevelt, at the request of their brother, Reginald Roosevelt Leacock. The twins have been missing from their home since Monday morning.

Reginald said that after an unsatisfactory discussion of a business venture at their Wall-st office, his brothers said they thought of shiping as seamen on a trans-Atlantic vessel or might go to California.

SUICIDES LAID AT BOARD'S DOOR

Federal Reserve Body Attacked By Senator Watson

ASKS MEMBERS' REMOVAL

Cause Of 10,000 Business Failures, He Declares

WASHINGTON. — (By United Press.) — "Big Chief" Tom Watson of Georgia, started on the war path today. With a grim smile as war paint, and a keen edged rhetorical tomahawk, he is after the scalp of the Federal Reserve board.

Since the advent of the Georgia fire brand in the Senate his colleagues have expected to await the "outbreak" of the "chief," as his clerks call him with affectionate deference.

The "war cry" of the "chief" was the reason, couched in the bitterest denunciation, directing President Harding to "fire" the present members of the board and replace them with "men of affairs" who are not to be "servants of Morgan, Standard Oil, packers and other legalized marauders."

"I'm going to camp on their trail like a hungry coyote after a corrupt rabbit," declared the "chief." "And the coyote usually gets the meat."

Sorting data. "The chief" was in his "tepee" sharpening his weapons—sorting a great mass of data relating to the Federal Reserve board—preparing for his first attack when found by the correspondent of the United Press.

A historian and a scholar, steeped in the traditions of the old South, Watson is a political paradox. Still clinging tenaciously to Jeffersonian Democracy he attacks such institutions as the Federal Reserve Board with a vehemence of a Russian Bolshevik. "The criminal and arbitrary deflation of the currency by the Reserve Board," Senator Watson declared, in his southern accent, "has cost the American people the amount of the German indemnity, $22,000,000,000."

Cause of failures. "The cool and unscrupulous bunch of scoundrels who compose the board have caused 10,000 business failures, innumerable heart aches among formerly prosperous people and the suicide of hundreds of citizens who have been reduced to desperation by the infamous policy of the board."

"They have done to America what German U-boats tried but failed to do—to sink the nation into the abyssal degradation of an autocratic subjugation. The atrocious sinking of the Lusitania and cold blooded murder of 119 Americans was no worse in moral turpitude than has been the criminal policy of the board."

"The outcome? There can be but one—to get rid of the board. That is certain when the American people know the truth about the board. I have dedicated myself to that purpose."

A touch of the true southern hospitality comes to the department visitor. Near the door of Watson's office is a crate of blushing Georgia peaches. Into the hands of the departing guest he presses a basket of the "pride of Georgia."

DE VALERA MAY MEET CRAIG

New Turn In The Irish Peace Parley Forecast

LONDON. — (By Associated Press) — The probability of a meeting in Belfast between Eamon De Valera and Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, is foreshadowed in some political quarters and several newspapers this morning.

General Smuts, premier of South Africa, who re-entered the negotiations yesterday, doubtless is largely responsible for this, and similar optimistic speculation has survived under great difficulties since Monday, when the Ulster premier departed suddenly for Belfast after making a forceful statement on the subject of self-determination as it applied to Ulster.

This seemed for a time to end all hope for an amicable meeting between the two Irish leaders, but the moderating influence of General Smuts, coupled with Belfast dispatches to the effect that Sir James does not regard the peace parleys as interrupted, have gone a long way toward re-establishing confidence.

The British cabinet today will give special consideration to the Irish question, and it is believed that the aforementioned proposals will be discussed at great length and that they are likely to receive the approval of the entire ministry.

ANGELENO "PHILADELPHIA." ST. LOUIS, Mo. — Herman J. Schutte, of Los Angeles, has found his brother, Frank, after twenty years of searching. A story in a local newspaper announced that Herman was here searching for his brother, from whom he received a letter twenty years ago. Frank, a railroad man, read the story. He found his brother.

WILL KISS 1,000 GIRLS, IS WAGER OF TITLED POET

NEW YORK. — (By United Press) — Girls between New York and San Francisco had better look out. Hugh and Malcolm Dardynian, two Britons who have forsaken the old country for Greenwich village, are on their way hiking it out to the Pacific, intent on watching the antics of a "titled" poet who has bet them that he will kiss one thousand damsels enroute or pay forfeit of $5,000. His name is withheld.

The modern Don Juan and his escort passed Yonkers today where they were spied from apartment windows.

Tousled heads watched them furtively from behind half closed shutters.

"You bet I'll kiss 'em all right," said the titled one as he blew a finger kiss to a negro washer woman. "They can't refuse my Irish smile." The hardy man, brothers sniggered and punched him playfully in the solar plexus. They don't believe him. "This walk is just going to pay for two new autos," they said.

According to the terms of the bet the trio may use any mode of travel except the railroads, provided that they pay no money for transportation.

ROBBER KILLED IN GUN BATTLE

THREE OF GANG ESCAPE

Youngstown Man Is Victim of Sheriff's Bullets

YOUNGSTOWN. — (By Associated Press) — Albert Wiles, of Youngstown, was killed by the sheriff of Portage-co while he and three other men were engaged in robbing a country store at Richtown Center, four miles from Ravenna, early today, according to advices received here.

Charles Worrells, Wiles' step-son, was captured, and two others escaped, but are believed to be in custody at Alliance, where two suspects were taken from a train.

Neighbors gave the alarm, and when the sheriff arrived Wiles opened fire. It is said, firing three shots. The sheriff's return fire killed him.

The men had a truck loaded with goods from the store. Worrells was taken to the Portage-co jail at Ravenna. The same gang is said to have robbed the same store six weeks ago.

RIVER NUISANCE BEFORE STATE

County Health Officer Asks Advice From Board

Formal notification that petitions had been filed with the Allen-co health department for the abatement of the Ottawa river nuisance was contained in a letter sent to the state board of health by Dr. J. J. Sutter Wednesday.

In the letter Sutter stated that petitions had been filed and more were being circulated by the farmers, living along the course of the Ottawa river, and that it was requested that something be done at once to put a stop to the pollution of the stream.

Advice was asked by the health commissioner as to what steps the local county board should take in the matter and information was requested as to what steps the state was expecting to take in the enforcement of its order to the city relative to the disposal of sewage.

By this letter the whole question is placed before the state department of health and its action awaited before anything is done by the Allen-co health board. Copies of the petitions, which already contain over 200 names, will be sent to the state board of health in the near future.

BLAIR READY TO SIGN NEW BEER REGULATION

WASHINGTON. — Regulations covering the use of beer and wine for medical purposes will be signed within a few days, unless prohibitory action is taken by congress, commissioner Blair announced today. The final draft of the regulations is on his desk awaiting signature. Action has been deferred for months, he said, upon assurance of senate leaders that congress would quickly determine its attitude toward medicinal beer, but with the postponing of prohibition legislation in the senate to facilitate passage of farm measures apparently further delay was in prospect.

Unless definite assurances of congressional action could be received within a day or two, the commissioner said it would be the duty of the bureau to promulgate the regulations.

EUROPE MENACED BY CONFLICT

American Intervention in Silesian Trouble Is Sought

DANGER TO THE ALLIES SEEN

General Outbreak Believed Near — Halts Irish Parley

LONDON. — (By Associated Press) — It was stated in authoritative quarters today that informal suggestions have been made for American intervention in the Upper Silesian trouble which it is feared will threaten open hostilities.

The American government's policy with respect to the Silesian and similar disputes concerning the fixation of boundaries, it is pointed out, has been one of non-intervention unless the situation was held to be such as to threaten an outbreak of hostilities. It is understood now that representations are being made from certain quarters interested in the Silesian situation that such a break is an immediate possibility.

DANGER TO ALLIES. The British government is urging the immediate convening of the supreme council to consider the complications caused by charges that the German protective organizations in Upper Silesia are still functioning, constituting a danger to the allied authority which have been followed by demands, notably from France, that the allied forces there be increased. Such a measure, however, has been opposed by the French on the ground that they considered nothing would result from such a meeting in which case the situation would be rendered materially worse.

There seems good reason to believe that the move to European peace which it is held the Silesian question presents, is the real cause for the postponement of further action on the Irish question and other matters of moment.

The Silesian question, it is stated, is causing grave anxiety to all the governments of Europe.

Important developments in this connection are expected within the next 48 hours.

REINFORCEMENTS ASKED

PARIS. — (By Associated Press) — The British, Italian and French commissioners in Upper Silesia have sent in a report in which they jointly demand that reinforcements be sent to the allied troops of occupation. It was announced here this afternoon.

This recommendation came almost simultaneously with the receipt of a note by the French foreign office from the British government in which Great Britain insisted there was no necessity for sending more troops into Upper Silesia. The note was in reply to the recent communication in which the French government notified Great Britain that reinforcements were needed urgently in order to make sure that the troops were not disturbed and to insure respect for the decisions of the allies under the Versailles treaty.

Mr. Briand has not yet replied to the British note and it is likely will make known his final decision regarding the convening of the supreme council this afternoon. The council, besides dealing with the Silesian question, probably will be occupied principally with the question of maintaining the penalties against Germany, continued occupation of Dueseldorf, Duisburg and Ruhrort and a few details concerning execution of the Versailles treaty.

STATE ROAD AID IS EXPECTED

Allen-co Men Get Encouraging Information At Columbus

DIXIE HIGHWAY IS FIRST

Funds For Others In County Sought By Council

Allen-co stands a good chance to obtain state aid during August for the Lima-Sandusky rd., a part of the Dixie Highway, and for the Elida and Waynefield-rds, State Highway Commissioner Louis C. Harlick assured the county commissioners and representatives of the Allen-co Roads Council Tuesday.

The delegation from Allen-co visited Columbus to confer with Harlick and the state industrial commission. Commissioners A. J. Gray, W. W. Craig and Glen I. Wallace, clerk of the board, represented the county, and J. Kenneth Johnson and Dan Kewin, the road council.

They were told by Commissioner Harlick the state highway department is very anxious to provide for improvement of the Dixie Highway from Lima to Bluffton, and asked that application be made on the portion of the road from Beaverdam north. Funds for improving the road from Lima to Beaverdam have already been appropriated, but owing to misunderstanding over the plans, construction has been delayed.

Partial assurances in connection with the Elida and Waynefield-rds were given the Allen-co delegation. Some $2,000,000 of bonds on roads in Ohio have not been turned in to the industrial commission, the delegation learned. If these bonds are not turned in by August 1, the aid granted by the highway department on the roads will be rescinded.

The commissioners and members of the roads council hope to obtain a portion of the rescinded aid for the Waynefield-rd.

The county road program committee of the Allen-co Roads Council will meet at the Chamber Auditorium at 8 p. m. Thursday to discuss plans. On the following night, the state aid program committee will meet at the same place to take up the matter of outlining a road building schedule.

COMMITTEES TO MEET

The two committees are scheduled to meet frequently prior to the August meeting of the council, when it is hoped to present their recommendations.

For the county five-year program, it is planned to hold conferences with township trustees regarding the roads in their districts. The trustees will be asked to designate what roads are to be county highways, and which are to be township roads. When this is done the commissioners will be petitioned to adopt the five-year county program.

The state aid committee plans to line up state aid roads in the order of their importance. The road heading the list will be taken up first and the efforts of the council will be directed toward this improvement. When funds have been secured for the road, the next most important state road will be considered.

SOX TRICKED BY GAMBLERS

Burns Tells of Baseball Frameup At Players Trial

BRIBERS DOUBLE-CROSSED

Diamond Men Hit Rack When Promises Failed

CHICAGO—(By Associated Press)—The indicted Chicago White Sox players, after agreeing with a clique of gamblers to throw the 1919 world's series to Cincinnati for one hundred thousand dollars, became sick of the deal when they were not paid the bribes promised and at a meeting before the third game, decided to play their best and win the series. Bill Burns, accomplice in the alleged deal and the state's star witness, testified today in the baseball trial.

Testified by the alleged "fixers" to win the third game to improve the betting odds, the players said they had lost for two regular pitchers—Clete and Williams—Dick Kerr, Burns said. Then, feeling they had been crossed by the gamblers, they double-crossed their bribers by telling them they would lose the third game, but instead won it three to nothing, with Kerr pitching.

ATTEMPTS OF the state to have Burns tell of a conversation with Eddie Clete in New York where the state claims the alleged conspiracy was formed failed when Judge Friend sustained a defense objection. George Gorman, assistant state's attorney, resuming his questions concerning meetings in Cincinnati hotels when Burns took the stand, asked:

"When you were in room 708 of the Hotel Sinton the day of the second game what happened?"

"Attell and several others were there," answered Burns. "Attell said Rothstein had two hundred thousand dollars to bet on the series but it was hard to get bets down and he did not want to give me any money. I looked on at least ten thousand dollars. He told me he showed me piles of money under a mattress. Forty thousand dollars was due the players then. Attell in talking to Rothstein said Rothstein had a private wire from New York to Cincinnati and some one said Pittsburgh gamblers were in on the deal. I don't know who said that. Attell, Bennett and Maharg were there. Some one said the Pittsburgh gamblers had a hard time getting money down."

MAHARG REFUSED MONEY

"Attell then took ten thousand dollars from under the mattress and gave it to me. I offered it to Maharg. He wouldn't take it. I put it in my shirt and took it up to the players' room. I passed 'Kid' Gleason on the way."

"Maharg and McMillin were in the hotel room—I don't recall the others. Later Clete and Gandil came in and I gave the ten thousand dollars to Gandil."

"There were two players there." In question and answer form the testimony was as follows:

Q—"What did the players say?" A—"Gandil said they had been double-crossed. Attell said they must win the third game—the next day—as to improve the odds, which then were three to two in favor of Chicago. Attell said the odds must be better."

Q—"What did the players say?" A—"Gandil said they had not won for a regular pitcher and they wouldn't win for a 'busher'."

Q—"Did they know who was going to pitch the third game?" A—"Yes, Dick Kerr."

Q—"Did you go to Chicago?" A—"Before going to Chicago, let's go back to New York. Tell the jury of the conversation you had with Clete in New York."

The defense objected, citing Judge Friend's ruling yesterday, when this conversation was barred. Judge Friend again barred the conversation for the time being, reserving the right to reverse his ruling, when the state privately informed him that the alleged conspiracy had its inception at the meeting between Clete and Burns.

"Clete and Burns met in the writing room of the Ansonia hotel, discussed the 'throwing' of the series and met there again the next day with Maharg and Gandil and decided to get the gamblers to back the deal," Mr. Gorman said in arguing the point.

FAMED WESTERN GIRL HONORED

"Miss Wyoming," Who Posed For Noted Poster, Made Judge

IS MODERN CINDERELLA

Took Trip To East To Deliver Invitation To President

CHEYENNE, Wyo.—(By International News Service)—With the announcement that the famous "Miss Wyoming" has been selected as honorary chairman of the committee of judges to select the world's champion all-around woman rider in the McAlpin Trophy contest at Cheyenne Frontier Days during the last week in July, in which she will be the first woman thus honored in the history of Western cowboy sports, an interesting "inside story" of unselfish service on behalf of the West and its reward is revealed.

Two years ago a newspaper man was sent out from New York, bringing the design of the now famous 1919 "Miss Wyoming" poster, complete but for the figure of "Miss Wyoming," heretofore drawing aside the curtain which reveals the bucking broncho of the noted roundup.

It had been specified that none but a real Western girl should pose for the "Miss Wyoming" figure, and the correspondent arrived, a stranger from the East, to select the model. A prominent Cheyenne society maid was invited to pose and refused coldly. Another was asked, and again the designer was snubbed. Another and another followed the lead of the other members of the local "400." Time grew short; a dozen had been asked, and still no model.

Then Miss Helen Bonham was suggested for the part, and in her the designer found a real cowgirl, almost the perfect type for the figure. "It will be hard work," she was told, "and others have refused to help," but she only laughed.

"If it will help Frontier Days and the West I will be glad to do it," Miss Bonham replied, and for a week the maid went thru the grueling work of posing for dozens of pictures until at last the right one was made.

The poster was published everywhere, and Miss Bonham, as "Miss Wyoming," was started on the road to fame.

Then the trip to the East as the State's messenger in delivering the Frontier Days invitations to the country's notables was suggested. Now, with the prospect of meeting the President, the Mayors, the Governors and being entertained as a celebrity by the greatest cities of the East, the maids who had before spurned the idea of posing and who embodied the Eastern correspondent suggesting it, all clamored to be chosen. "It should be some of us who are prominent," they said.

But Miss Bonham, as "Miss Wyoming," was by then not only prominent, she was famous, and the maid who, Cinderella-like, had risen from obscurity thru her desire to help the West, went, as all newspaper readers know.

Entertained at the White House by President Harding, by New York millionaires, Mayors, Governors, the country's greatest society folk and women's clubs, this little Western Cinderella charmed all by her graciousness and personality. In the meanwhile the girls who had "cold shouldered" the stranger from the East gashed their teeth in dismay.

And now, with every cowgirl in the West in the contest to win the world's championship riding title at the great Frontier Days sports, with the gold, silver and diamond McAlpin Trophy and the attendant trip to New York for its presentation as the prize, "Miss Wyoming" is again honored, and on her badge of judgeship will be the inscription:

For conspicuous service on behalf of the West."

Naval Officers Discuss Possibilities Of War

KEEP WATCH ON JAPAN

Take Years To Prepare For Attack In Far East.

By DAVID M. CHURCH WITH THE ATLANTIC FLEET (International News Service) — Orders for the transfer of some of the most powerful fighting ships of the United States Navy to Pacific waters have been followed by renewal of discussions in the fleet of the possibilities of a war in the Pacific. One thing is certain, that the officers of the fleet do not want war, although their daily task is continual preparation for war.

Least of all do the officers of the fleet want war in the Pacific. It is generally agreed among the fleet officers that if the United States is ever forced to war in the Pacific it will be the greatest naval war that the world has ever seen, it will probably be the longest.

Preparations for active naval warfare on the Pacific may seem well advanced, but the officers of the fleet declare it would take from one to three years more for this nation to prepare for a naval attack in the Far East. Naval bases in the Pacific are now adequate for peace-time defense.

FORESTRY POLICY TO BE FORMED

Committee To Make Trip To Study Conditions

NEW YORK — (By International News Service) — Following a preliminary meeting here it was announced that the committee of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States to study forestry problems will make a trip to the Pacific Coast. In its endeavor to formulate a national forestry policy this National Forestry Policy Committee of the Chamber will not confine itself to a study of principles embodied in forestry bills before Congress, but will make an independent investigation.

"Forest resources in the East and South are reduced to the point where 61 per cent of the total stand of saw timber lies west of the Great Plains, and over 50 per cent in the three Pacific Coast States," says a statement by Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the American Forestry Association in commenting on the importance of the trip.

"Our demand upon the latter is becoming heavier each year and with it our freight bills are becoming larger and larger. Investigations of a number of large retail lumber companies in southern Minnesota show that the average transportation cost of material hauled by them, due primarily to the increasing volume of western lumber which these companies have had to import in order to supply the needs of their territory, has increased 263 per cent in the last fifteen years. Yet these companies are in a region which only a few years ago was contiguous to the greatest lumber producing region of the country, and which might still be a great producer were its idle hands productive."

"Resolved, That there should be co-operation between Federal Government and the States as well as private timberland owners to forward a national forestry policy."

Members of the committee number some of the most widely-known business men and educators in the country.

BEARING THE LION IN HIS DEN

HIRED ASSASSINS

EVIDENCE brought out in the case of Mrs. Catherine Eva Kaber, in Cleveland, charged with procuring the murder of her husband and found guilty, has apparently paved the way to clearing up the mystery surrounding at least three other killings in the Forest City, in which the deadly hand of the hired assassin was seen.

Murder, the most terrible of all crimes, in which lives are wantonly and cruelly taken by others, is made doubly terrible when death is dealt by hired assassins. Those who procure a death are as guilty of crime as those who do the actual work. Every year there are thousands of people dropping out of sight in the larger cities. They disappear as tho the ground opened up and swallowed them. In many cases no evidence is ever found to indicate what befell them.

It is quite easy to guess that in most of these instances at least, the part played by the hired assassin has had much to do with the unexplained disappearances. Tips dropped in the Kaber case have led to other cases in police annals being reopened and there is good evidence that several similar cases will be cleared up.

There is an element about the results of the work of the hired assassin, those who kill for a price, that strikes terror to the heart. Slayer and victim are often total strangers to one another, until those who seek to cause a death point out to the slayer his victim. A stalking game then begins, the intended victim unconscious of the danger that lurks, while the real murderer—the one in the background who pays the price for the commission of the crime—is careful to prepare an alibi that cannot be shaken.

INCREASED FIRE DANGER

SEVERAL fire calls answered by the Lima fire department this week bring forcibly to attention the fact that in hot, dry weather there is added danger from fire, in the country as well as in the city.

New hay stored in barns is in constant danger of spontaneous combustion and burning matches or cigarette or cigar stubs carelessly flicked into dry grass or in stubble fields produce a situation that is generally productive of damage.

Extraordinary care should be employed by everyone to prevent fire at this season of the year. Fires in the open should not be started unless absolutely necessary and should be watched carefully in that contingency.

JURY COMMENDS SLAYER

AN advanced interpretation was placed on the unwritten law by a coroner's jury in Seapleasant, Maryland, when the members of the investigating body patted William Goetz on the back and congratulated him for having killed Albert J. Boyd, a world war veteran, who admitted that he had broken up the Goetz home.

The prisoner received the thanks of the jury and was freed of responsibility on the ground of self defense, evidence having been submitted tending to show that Boyd and Mrs. Goetz had been overheard conversing and planning to "get" the woman's husband.

It is not infrequent that men and women are exonerated from blame after killing another who has broken up a home by illicit relations, but it is not always that the feeling of the jury is such as to impel its members to congratulate and thank the slayer. Justice is not always meted out to those guilty of such a serious infraction of the moral law, by breaking down the sanctity of the marriage state, but it is seldom that punishment is given those who take the law in their own hands and commit murder.

Circumstances have much to do with the outcome of such cases. Where it is clearly shown that the life partner or the guilty man or woman has trod the straight and narrow path of rectitude and that the inclination to kill is born with the development of the knowledge of the guilt of husband or wife, as the case may be, juries are not prone to hold the slayer to answer to the law.

FIGHTING FLIES

WAR on flies is having its effect. Reports from many cities this summer show these pests to be present in fewer numbers than heretofore. That is said to be the case in Lima.

This community, as well as all others, has heeded the call to arms against this deadly enemy. The crack of swatters has been heard the length and breadth of the land and the forces of the foe are dwindling.

But this is not a time to relinquish the battle. It should be waged with ever-increasing vigor. The success already won is an indication of what may be accomplished. Keep the swatters busy.

THE SMITH FAMILY

THE most prominent American family is the Smiths. More than 150,000 of them—five army divisions—fought for America in the last war, according to recent statistics.

They are in Congress. They may be found in most every state legislature and on police forces.

Other families might leave Lima or any other city without making much impression, but if the Smiths were to leave in a bunch the loss would be felt.

STAY HOME, MARGUERITE.

Having been invited south, I thought at last here is where I am going to enjoy some of the southern cooking I have heard so much about. While waiting for a train at one of the stations a boy of ten years was calling, "Getta chicken dinner, 50 cents!" he had a few bags and I purchased one. My mind pictured an Aunt Jemima mummy trying chicken to help pay the mortgage on the shack. When I opened the bag I beheld a much-worn neck of a chicken, biscuits the kind mother never made and a stale piece of cake of a vivid color. I fed the biscuits to the chickens, and the chicken I gave to the dog, who immediately ran with it to the boy. I figured he was in on the scheme, and wondered how many times that same piece of chicken had been given him. The lesson to this story is, if you want to enjoy southern cooking remain north.—Marguerite Kelly Tucker.

THE ROAD TO SUCCESS By DR. WILLIAM E. BARTON

IT'S old-fashioned advice. I know, but I believe it is good:

"Early to bed and early to rise, Makes a man healthy, wealthy and wise."

I am not sure about the wealth, but I am certain about the health and the opportunity to learn.

An hour in the morning is worth two hours of night study when the brain is fagged.

Let me assume that there is some study in which you would like to become proficient, but which your daily task affords no time for you to pursue.

Or you would like to make a study of English poetry, or of Chinese metaphysics, or of Sanskrit, or of political economy.

I do not favor too short a night. Mr. Edison may get on with four hours sleep, but I recommend more.

I think the first rule for success in life is to get up in the morning and go after it.

JUST FOLKS—BY EDGAR A. GUEST

THE LESSON

You will discover by and by,
When you have grown as old as I,
That certain men at whom you sneer,
With habits strange and customs queer
And sometimes very coarse and crude
And in their conduct often rude,
Grow rich, while men of finer grain
In humble poverty remain.
And no doubt, too, as old I am,
You'll notice this and wonder why—
Why should the hatter intellect
The treasures of the world collect,
While polished minds from day to day
Must struggle for a meager pay?
If ignorance to wealth can rise,
Why be a gentleman and wise?

Yet when these thoughts shall come
to you,
There is one thing I'd have you do—
Consider this: so rich to be,
Would you remain as coarse as he?
Count up your friends and his right then—
Would you give up the kindly men Who stand by you and take his place,
Almost an outcast from his race?
Would you be laughed at, as I be,
The richest man on earth to be?
And for mere gold, so highly prized,
Would you be pitted or despised?
Learn from such men that here on earth
Money is not the proof of worth,
And poor is he whose wealth is told
In nothing but a pile of gold.

HEALTH HINTS

By William Brady, M. D.
CANCER OF THE STOMACH
In reply to numerous questions, cancer of the stomach cannot be cured without operation. It may be present for months before any pain is suffered. Loss of weight accompanying alleged "dyspepsia" in an individual of middle age or older who has not previously had "dyspepsia," is probably the most frequent mode of onset. Cancer of any organ or tissue is a degeneration of the normal tissue, not a new growth such as a harmless fatty tumor or a fibroid tumor which is in itself poisonous to the whole system. Any of us may have cancer, no matter whether other cases have occurred among our ancestors or in our family or not. Every family has a members or several members with cancer sooner or later. Cancer is not inherited, but it is so common that it is bound to occur in every family some time. Cancer is never communicated from person to person; there is no danger whatever of catching the disease by caring for a cancer patient. The only danger involved in nursing such a patient is that of ordinary infection (septicemia) such as may be contracted in the personal care of any patient with a wound or abscess or boils or any such infective condition, and the best precaution against such infection consists in the free and frequent use of plain soap and water to wash the hands
after each service to the patient.
Cancer has no "roots," despite the assertions to that effect in the bait sent out to cancer victims by charlatans. Instead of growing from so-called "roots," cancerous degen-eration invades surrounding normal tissues in irregular. In any case, no one who really knows the nature of cancer or its mode of growth or extension would for a moment imagine that any human eye can distinguish between cancerous tissue and surrounding normal tissue to the exact degree of certainty the cancer quack purports to exercise.

The Proper Care of Children's Hair

How to Keep It Beautiful, Healthy and Luxuriant

THE beauty of your child's hair depends upon the care you give it.
Shampooing it properly is always the most important thing.
It is the shampooing which brings out the real life and lustre, natural wave and color, and makes their hair soft, fresh and luxuriant.
When your child's hair is dry, dull and heavy, lifeless, stiff and gummy, and the strands cling together, and it feels harsh and disagreeable to the touch, it is because the hair has not been shampooed properly.
When the hair has been shampooed properly, and is thoroughly clean, it will be glossy, smooth and bright, delightfully fresh-looking, soft and silky.

While children's hair must have frequent and regular washing to keep it beautiful, it cannot stand the harsh effect of ordinary soaps. The free alkali in ordinary soaps soon dries the scalp. Makes the hair brittle and ruins it.
That is why discriminating mothers
use Mulsified Coconut Oil Shampoo.
This clear, pure and entirely grease-less product cannot possibly injure and it does not dry the scalp, or make the hair brittle, no matter how often you use it.

If you want to see how really beautiful your hair can be, just Follow This Simple Method
FIRST, wet the hair
and scalp in clear,
warm water.
Then apply a little Mulsified Coconut Oil Shampoo, rubbing it in thoroughly all over the scalp and throughout the entire length, down to the ends of the hair.

Two or three teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather. This should be rubbed in thoroughly and briskly with the finger tips, so as to loosen the dandruff and small particles of dust
and dirt that stick to the scalp.
When you have done
this, rinse
the hair and scalp thoroughly, using clear, fresh, warm water. Then use another application of Mulsified

Two waters are usually sufficient for washing the hair; but sometimes the third is necessary.
You can easily tell, for when the hair is perfectly clean it will be soft and silky in the water.

Rinse the Hair Thoroughly
THIS is very important. After the final washing the hair and scalp should be rinsed in at least two changes of good warm water and followed with a rinsing in cold water.

After a Mulsified
Shampoo, you will find the hair will dry quickly and evenly and have the appearance of being much thicker and heavier than it is.

If you want your child
to always be remembered for its beautiful, well-kept hair, make it a rule to set a certain day each week for a Mulsified
Coconut Oil Shampoo.
This regular weekly shampooing will keep the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, fresh-looking and fluffy, wavy and easy to manage, and it will be noticed and admired by everyone.

You can get Mulsified Coconut Oil Shampoo at any drug store or toilet goods counter. A 4-ounce bottle should last for months.

Teach Your Boy to Shampoo
His Hair Regularly
IT may be hard to get a boy to shampoo his hair regularly, but it's mighty important that he does so.
His hair and scalp should be kept perfectly clean to insure a healthy, vigorous scalp and a fine, thick, heavy head of hair.

SAN JUAN PASSES BIG BUDGET

$10,000,000 Is Largest Ever Approved

$4,000,000 FOR SCHOOLS

Expenditures Of $20,000,000
Voted By Legislature

SAN JUAN, P. R. — (By Associated Press) — Out of a budget of $10,000,000 passed by the recent legislature and just approved by Acting Governor Jose Benedito, a little more than $4,000,000 is set aside for the public schools of the island. This is $1,000,000 more than the last school budget and the largest amount ever appropriated for education in any one year.

The budget is the largest ever approved. Including bond issues and direct appropriations, the legislature voted expenditures of $20,000,000 out several of the projects involving large sums may be vetoed by the Governor. Among the bond issues authorized were those for $3,000,000 for the extending of a railroad around the island; $1,000,000 for an insular bank; $2,000,000 road extension and improvement bonds and $1,000,000 for rural schools.

A new income tax law provides a normal tax rate of three per cent for both individual and corporate income and limits the additional income tax to 15 per cent for individuals and to 25 per cent for corporations.

The law provides that "additional returns" may be filed where revisions are necessary for individuals or firms whose returns last August were based on anticipated profits which were not received.

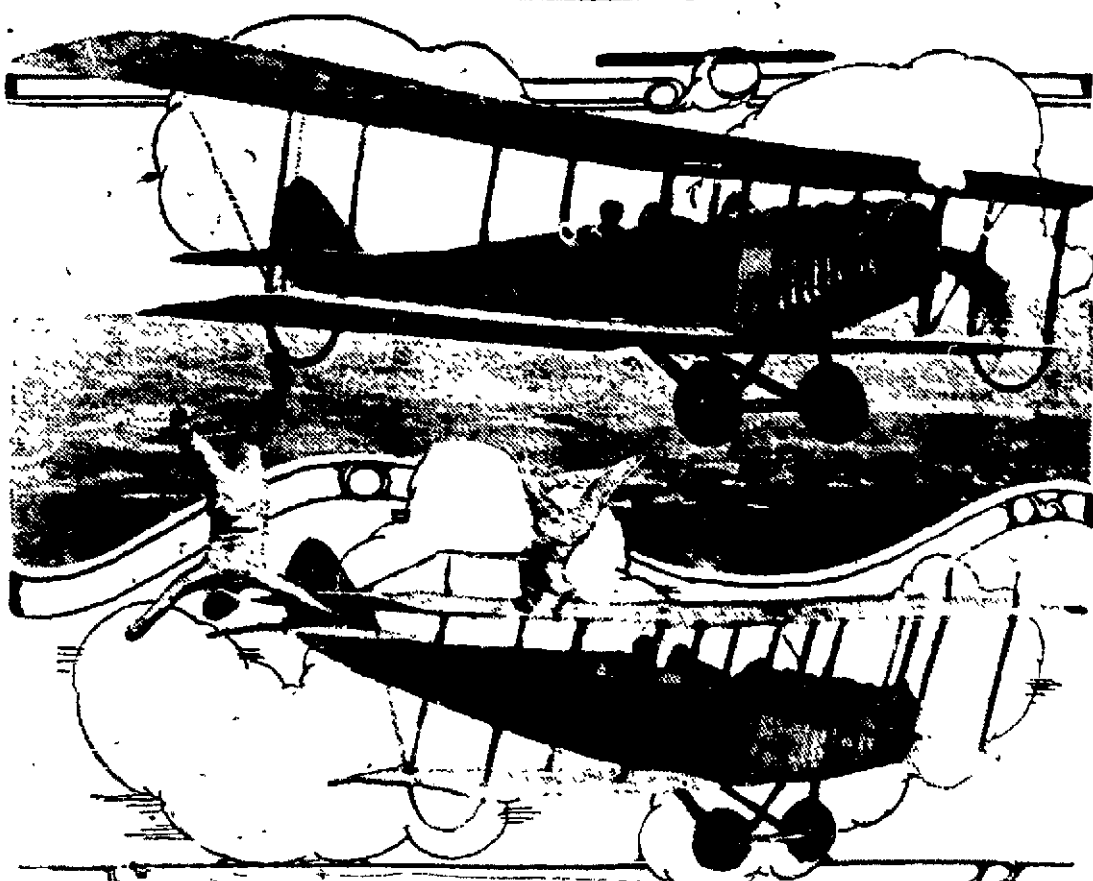

A commission was authorized to study a proposal that the insular government purchase steamships from the United States Shipping Board to provide better transportation for the island.

Prince Of Wales Repays Debt When He Confers Degrees In Welsh Tongue

CARLIFF, Wales—A vast audience representative of every phase of the national life of Wales was housed to the highest pitch of Celtic enthusiasm when the Prince of Wales, following his installation as Chancellor of the University of Wales recently, conferred degrees on a number of distinguished men and greeted them in Welsh. It was something of an ordeal for the Prince to employ the Welsh formula, but he came thru with flying colors and his pronunciation was unanimously declared to be excellent.

Perhaps the most interesting incident of the proceedings was afforded by the conferring on Mr. Balfour of the degree of Doctor in letters, for this, as the Prince reminded the audience, enabled him to a certain extent to repay a debt incurred only a week ago at Cam-

"There," said the Prince, "Mr. Balfour, as Chancellor, gave me an honorary degree and addressed me at some length in Latin, a tongue with which I regret to say I am not as familiar as I should be. So it is a special pleasure for me to find myself in a position to repay the compliment, both as regards the degree itself and the formula of its presentation, for the I dare not compare my pronunciation of Welsh with his faultless and scholarly Latin. I cannot help thinking that he understood considerably less of my few remarks than I did of what he said to me at Cambridge."

Nothing to Compare With Cadillac in Value— Even from the Angle of Price

There has never been a time in its history when the Cadillac was not plainly the greatest value in America, or, indeed, in the entire world—even if you approach it from the angle of price.

In America no car is comparable with it in point of long and honorable history, or demonstrated performance-value over a long period.

No car that assumes or aspires to comparison with Cadillac is known in anything like the same measure for undeviating reliability, and dollar-for-dollar return in uninterrupted long-service.

No other car has ever won anything like the same overwhelming admission on the part of the public that it gives back dividends of unbroken satisfaction for every mile of use, whether the distance traveled be one or one hundred thousand miles.

Value expresses itself in the Cadillac not merely in countless miles of freedom from overhauling, adjustment, or repair, but—as a result of that freedom—in lower cost of maintenance which lesser cars cannot equal.

Expert opinion in Great Britain has pronounced the Cadillac the greatest car in the world regardless of price.

American opinion unanimously echoes that conviction—and both nations are right.

HINTS OF WHAT TO EXPECT FOR FALL IN EVENING GOWNS

Another month and the evening frock will again loom up as one of the important garments of midday's wardrobe. Just now during the great heat there is nothing appealing about the formal dinner gown (except perhaps its sleeveless, low-cut bodice which looks cool), but nevertheless one might read a hint or two about what to expect in the fall.

This gown pictured here is a new one designed for formal fall wear. The bodice is cut very low in the back in a most graceful and curving line, but the front is rather high. The waistline is normal and the skirt is made of chiffon pointed in front and back with strands of loose beads edging it. Many long strands of the beads fall from the waist line to the bottom of the skirt which it may be noted is rather long. Short strands of beads trim the bodice.

GIFT FOR GIRL

Young Man Puzzled Over Suitable Token for Friend

Miss Worries Because Man's Attention Wanes

Dear Miss Smart:
I am a young man 19 years old and have been going with a young girl for some time. We are not engaged but all at once he stopped going with me. I give her some kind of a gift and prefer a present of jewelry. Do you think this would be proper and what would you suggest?

It is very thoughtful in you to wish to give the young girl some kind of a gift but perhaps there will be something other than jewelry which would be just as nice and at the same time make a far more suitable gift. It is not considered correct for a woman or a girl to accept a gift of jewelry from any man except her fiancé or a member of her family.

You can readily see, if this girl is informed on this point of etiquette how embarrassing it would be for her to have to refuse a gift of jewelry. Then on the other hand, if she does not know that she would be breaking the conventions in accepting it, she might feel a present of jewelry implied a deeper feeling than friendship.

In order to avoid any misunderstanding, it would be wise for you to give only conventional gifts such as flowers, candy, books, et cetera.

Dear Miss Smart:
I wish to ask your advice on a certain subject which has caused me a great deal of worry. I went with a young man for several months and then all at once he stopped going with me. There seemed to be no reason and he always speaks to me just the same. What shall I do? Do you think I should say anything to him? I love this man and he said he cared for me.

I am sorry for you, but you must remember that "true love never runs smoothly." If the young man wishes to renew his attentions he will make the necessary advances. It would not be in good taste for you to make any obvious effort to regain his interest. Do not write him or ask him to call, although sometimes when you chance to meet him you might give him a casual invitation to stop in and see you sometime.

Dear Miss Smart:
Would you please tell me how I should tell my husband when I am speaking of him to others—that is in reference to using his first and last names?

A WIFE
When speaking to relatives or close friends you should refer to your husband by his first name. With persons you meet on equal terms in social or business relations, you should speak of him as "my husband." Only to children, or to employees should you refer to your husband as Mr. "So and So."

Dear Miss Smart:
Can you tell me of something that will keep my hair in curl?

It is very difficult to keep the hair in curl during this hot weather. You might try balmoline, which may be purchased at any drug store. This helps in keeping the hair in curl.

Dear Miss Smart:
(1) If a bride's parents are dead and she has no near relatives, should the bridegroom's parents pay for the wedding announcement? (2) Is it proper for a woman to rise when a man is introduced to her? (3) Should a young girl rise when an older woman is being presented to her?

JUNE
(1) No, in such a case the bride herself pays for the announcements. (2) A woman does not rise when a man is introduced to her unless she is the hostess or he is very elderly or distinguished. (3) Yes.

BRITISH WOMEN ARE SMOKING "IN OPEN"; WITNESS TWO FAIR DAMSELS AT RACES

This photo was snapped recently at the races at Ascot, England. Note the cigarettes which the women are openly enjoying.

Everybody knows that women have been smoking cigarettes in private, but very few of them have dared to go forth before the world with their cigarettes or pipes. Oh, yes, many of them have taken to the pipe. Over in England women smoking is a sight that does not arouse much discussion. These women who enjoyed their cigarettes at the Ascot races recently scarcely drew a passing comment.

RELIGION TAUGHT

Twelve Hundred Lima Children Attend Bible Schools

More than 1,200 children have been enrolled in the nine vacation bible schools being conducted under the direction of the Lima Council of Religious Education. The largest school is at the Highest United Brethren church and has an enrollment of 246 children.

Children between the ages of five and 14 years are enrolled and taught during week-day mornings. The work consists of story telling, recreational games and manual training. In the manual work the girls are taught sewing and the boys learn woodcraft. Some very interesting work is being done by the children.

Each school is under the direction of a principal and her assistants. Miss Dorothea Klag is the supervisor of all the schools.

MOLER OUT ON BOND.
Frank Moler, 27, arrested several days ago at the home of his parents in Montezuma, Mercer-co., on a secret indictment returned by the January grand jury, is out of jail. Moler is charged with non-support of his children. Moler's mother and his two sisters signed the bond of $300, which permitted him to be released from jail.

OBITUARY

Theresa Helen, daughter of Lewis Melvin and Rosa Beckin, was born October 20, 1903, and departed this life from the City hospital, Lima, Ohio, July 17, 1921 at the age of 17 years, 8 months and 27 days.

March 2, 1921, she was united in marriage to Bert Anderson. Their married life was very happy and all seemed well for a very pleasant journey together, but soon disease took hold of her body and she was compelled to yield to its wonderful power.

During her affliction she was ever hopeful and ever maintained that same cheerful, happy and lovable disposition with which she won the sympathy of all. Although she knew the end was near, she had no fear of death, but calling her loved ones to her one by one, bid them good-bye and said "She loved Jesus" and that she was "going straight to Heaven."

She endured her suffering very patiently and in her last moments assisted her husband and parents to make the final arrangements for her departure.

She leaves to mourn their loss a husband, father, mother, one grandfather, two grand-mothers, one uncle, Birchard Riley, and a host of friends.

Naturally we would say, surely she went too soon, yet God knows better when our work is done.

We shall be submissive to His will remembering, There is a land where beauty can not fade.

Nor sorrow dim the eye. Where true love shall not droop nor be dismayed, And none shall ever die.

Thanks to neighbors and friends.

ROTARY HOLDS LEAD -- BURNS BARES SCANDAL

League Leaders Step From Behind And Trounce Elks

Twice overcoming leads, the Rotarians battled their way to victory against the Elks at Murphy-st lot Tuesday afternoon, thereby insuring their hold on first place. The score was 8 to 7. Tuesday's victory places the Rotarians in a position from which they cannot be dislodged by any of the three remaining teams in the Business club loop. The best any team can do is to tie them up for first honors. This can be done by the Lions is that team wins its two remaining games. Should the Lions drop a game, Rotary's rights to the leading position and the hunting can not be questioned. Their victory, Tuesday, was accomplished when practically every fan present had given up hopes. A base on balls, an error and a single scored the tying and winning runs in the seventh for the leaders.

ELKS HELPED COON
The Elks, with Coon on the mound, played invincible ball for the first four innings. In that period,

Clubs	W	L	Pct.
Rotary	8	1	.889
Lions	6	4	.600
Kiwanis	4	6	.400
Elks	3	7	.300

however, it was only the teamwork of Coon's mates that kept the Rotarians away from the plate. The Elk hurler, usually steady, was a trifle ineffective Tuesday. He was wild at times. In fact, the majority of leadoff men in the lineup got to first base via the pass route. Twice, double plays pulled him out of mean holes.

Robt, southpaw ace of the Rotarians, went the route for that club. He was ineffective to a large degree, and it was also the good work of his supporters that won the game for him. He was given eight hits in the first six innings, particularly by Mori Sealts, who covered the keyman territory like the professional dew. It was Sealts' one-handed stop of Jack Malloy's hard hit grounder in the seventh that kept the Elks from piling up their lead in that session. Sealts handled eight chances without a bobbie.

The Lions battle Kiwanis here Thursday afternoon. If the Lions can take that game, they will have only one more to win in order to tie the Rotary for first place honors.

NEW PLAYS BOOKED PROGRAMS AT MOVIESCHANGE

ON Thursday of this week all of the movies in the city will have changed their programs. Brings back memories, as we write, of the early days of the movie game when it was something out of the ordinary for a picture to run more than a single day in one town. That was when the cinema houses were called nickel shows and when a jitney could get you into the best production of the day. That's not saying much for the movies of the pioneer times however, because they were hardly worth more.

The advance that the photoplay has made in this country especially is nothing short of remarkable. Once upon a time any old western picture, just as long as it was replete with thrill got by like a million. But those days are past. The people demanded better movies and got them.

Today, if a movie needs a couple of thrills to get it across they usually put some real ones in the picture with close-ups and every thing. Money cuts no figure today. It's a matter of making a good picture.

There's the movie that gives you a real problem, and the solution, today, and there's the movie for pure entertainment. Scenic classics form the basis of some of the more popular photoplays. The public wants something tangible nowadays and they're getting it.

"BUCKING THE TIGER," OFFERS SUSPENSE

Under a self inflicted sentence of death, the hero of "Bucking the Tiger," to be shown at the Lyric beginning Thursday, affords one a most thrilling suspense until the final notch on the right hand side of the film has passed between the cogs of the projecting machine.

Imagine dealing yourself a death card, then insuring your life for $100,000, the money to go to your partners in conspiracy.

Conway Tearle is being started in the picture, so he's the man who gets

TOM MIX AT SIGMA THURSDAY

The Faurot, we remarked Tuesday, changed its program early. Wednesday sees a new picture there with Dorothy Dalton starring in usual style. She's worth seeing in most any picture she plays in, and since this is one of the wild and woolly north, it is doubly interesting.

At the Sigma Tom Mix the big athletic cowboy is featured in the Big Town Round-up beginning Thursday. Since the picture has not been exhibited here yet, criticism is impossible. Tom Mix himself, regardless of the picture in which he plays is easily worth travelling down town to see.

Tom Mix has the delightful sort of a personality that gives his acting distinction. He is pleasing to watch, even if the pictures in which he plays are usually somewhat out of the ordinary.

Rapid action is one of the characteristics of his plays however, and that is almost an absolute necessity these hot days. You don't seem to notice the time pass when Tom Mix is throwing a lariat or ripping up some Mexican with a six shooter.

He'll probably help considerably in the next few days at the Sigma by killing a lot of deadweight time for many movie fans.

SCREEN GOSSIP

Mlle. Naretta, famous Spanish beauty and formerly a great international film star is coming to America from Spain to study the screen conditions of this country. She will probably have the lead in a gigantic historical production to be made in this country and France next fall.

Frances Eldridge who was so prominent in the cast of "The Foreigners" is considering deserting the silver screen for the vaudeville stage. She has never been on the vaudeville stage before.

Bert Lytell recently won a movie popularity contest in China.

Here's a movie paradox for you—series of two reel western pictures are to be made in New York soon.

George Fitzmaurice and his wife Guida Berger have sailed for England where they will film "Three Live Ghosts."

MISS WAGNER'S UP-TO-DATE THEATRICAL NEWS AND GOSSIP THEDA'S "HONEYMOON TRAIL" IS UNKNOWN EVEN TO HER FRIENDS

Couldn't fool you could it? You knew it was Theda Bara all the time. I suppose. For months the rumors of a possible marriage to Mr. Brabin have been spread about and have been repeatedly denied by the couple, but now it is out, and everybody knows that Theda Bara and her director, C. J. Brabin, have said, "I will."

They went up to the justice of peace in Greenwich, Connecticut, the same place where Constance Talmadge and Dorothy Gish changed their names. Where Mr. and Mrs. Brabin are now is not known. Fox Film claims to know nothing of the marriage and stated that Mr. Brabin had gone on a vacation.

Mrs. Brabin is about thirty-one years old. She won fame by her acting of the vampire type. Her success was largely due to Mr. Brabin, who directed her in the play.

A few years ago Miss Bara was reported married to Tom Bodkin, once manager of Frank Moran, the prizefighter. The wedding is said to have taken place in Toronto. She died.

Mr. Brabin is English by birth and about forty years of age. He has been divorced.

GLADYS BROCKWELL, having left Fox some time ago, has been signed by the Novo Syndicate, a new producing company backed by St. Louis capital, and is to be featured in six features, a series of society dramas all of which will be based upon original stories.

She is to work in the Louis Mayer studios in Los Angeles. The first feature is from a story written by Adele Buffington, a St. Louis girl and Fycliffe A. Hill, president of the Photo Playwrights league, has written the second. The league is trying to win producers away from the idea of producing novel and works of famous authors only.

PATHE NOW U. S. COMPANY. American stockholders and American management of Pathe Exchange, Inc., one of the foremost independent distributors of motion pictures in the world, completed a deal recently whereby they acquired control of the $7,000,000 company from Pathe Cinema, Ltd., of Paris.

Announcement to this effect was made in a cable from Paul Brancer, president of Pathe Exchange, Inc., who has been in Paris for several weeks arranging the details of the transaction with the officials of Pathe Cinema, Ltd.

Charles Pathe, founder of the world-wide organization bearing his name, retains a large share of the stock in the American concern.

WHAT THEY'RE DOING. A company comprised exclusively of Chinese is operating in Los Angeles, producing "Lotus Blossom." The film venture is unique because it is the first time orientals have entered into picture production in this country.

Will Rogers, cowboy, humorist, actor, screen star and author, announces that he is going to strike out privately and produce two-reel comedies. He will release through Pathe.

A summer course at a Los Angeles university will claim Bessie Love's attention this year. She has enrolled.

Warner Baxter, Ethel Clayton's leading man, says the first time he went on the stage he was so excited he lined his eyes with red grease paint instead of black.

Metro may lose a big scenario writer—if June Mathias carries through her plans to return to the stage next season.

Both Louise Lovely and Roy Stuart are filming a series of Canadian northwest mounted police stories in San Francisco.

Johanny Hince, famed for the "Torchy" comedies, is to make three feature-length photo plays this year. His first one is already completed. It is made from the "Burn Em Up Barnes" stories.

DINNER STORIES
An old colored man had a pig. He sold it to a white man for three dollars. The white man drove it away, but it returned to the original owner, who, with singular neatness, sold it to another white man an hour later for four dollars. The second purchaser drove the pig away. But he encountered the first buyer and they started wrangling. Finally they decided to consult the colored man. They returned to him.

"Look here," said the first, "didn't you sell that pig to me at ten dollars?"
"Sho' I did, massa."
"And didn't you sell the same pig to me at eleven dollars?" asked the second.
"Sho' I did, massa."
"Then to whom does it belong now?" asked the first.
"Snakes alive!" said the old man. "Can't you settle dat question between yourselves?"

As every golfer is aware, it is against the rules to remove anything growing on the course.
The other day a player asked: "What should I do on the putting green if a worm lies between my ball and the hole?" And I, entitled to lift it or brush it aside."
"Well," replied his companion, "I think you should brush it aside."
"Yes," he replied, "you may be right, but this was a young and growing worm, you know."

"See that man going into the office building?" the chauffeur inquired as he casually prepared to move his car from the curb. "I feel sorry for him sometimes—he has to work so darned hard."
"You mean in order to make his living?" the doorman, in response, asked idly.
"No," the chauffeur replied as he gently let the clutch, "he means name."

STATE HIGHWAY MAN TRANSFERRED; LACK OF RESULTS IS REASON

R. F. Darnell, district engineer for the state highway department, in charge of seven counties, including Allen, is to be transferred to another district, according to information given representatives of the Allen Road Council at Columbus Tuesday.
Darnell was in charge of road work in the following counties: Allen, Van Wert, Mercer, Auglaize, Darke, Shelby and Miami. He maintained offices in the county seat towns of every county, and visited each county in rotation, spending a day or so each time.

Failure to secure results in the district was given as the cause of the shuffling. Darnell's successor will be appointed by the Commissioner Leon C. Hendrick within a few days, the Allen Road Council representatives were informed.

Troy Women Tells How External Knot Treatment Put an End to Suffering

Note: It would be illegal to publish these statements if they were not true.
Mrs. Dot Cox, 8 No. Market St., Troy, O., says in her own home paper, the Troy Mail Express: "I used Resinol Ointment a year ago, and it has completely relieved me of a terrible inward goitre. I was so short of breath, could not sleep, and my heart would feel like it would stop. I was so nervous and my head would feel like it would explode. I could not wash or sew or do any work since I had the goitre. My whole system is stronger and my throat does not bother me at all. I am as well as I was before I had goitre. If any one needs to write me, I will be glad to answer."
Similar quadruple comes in small bottles containing enough for most cases. It will not stain or irritate. Does not interfere with regular work. Leaves skin in beautiful, normal condition. Requires 10 minutes daily.
